picture OF THE MONTH

Take note of the foreword of M.G.M.'s long-ply anticipated comedy "Don't Go Near The Water".

"This is a story of some of the best friends and wonderful guys of the Navy Public Relations
'Corps'. They push a gorgeous person, found a dangerous life preserver and live a really paper clip. But they DON'T GO NEAR THE WATER!"

This gives you a hint of what's ahead, although we were already alerted by the reports of the Hollywood preview. From Louella Parsons: "The preview audience never stopped laughing. Don't miss Don't Go Near The Water!" From Hedda Hopper: "You'll want your hand out. And don't miss Mary."
The funniest picture
I've ever seen.

Of course, there was
the following foreword
by William Henry to start off with, and the perfect ending. "Good Ford, God Save, Earl Hamilton, of 'Ran-maker' (Gang), Anna Filmer, Lawrence Wynn, Fred Clark, Eva Gabler, Russ Tamblyn,
with the seven's new and happy crew, Mary Shamberg, 'Save the water, these Public Relations boys 'don't go near' the water, the enchanting South Pacific island of Tanna,
'Don't Go Near The Water' is, of course,
in Metrocolor and CinemaScope."

The Public Relations office around whom most of the month's story is "Don't Go Near"
played by Glenn Ford, and the entire cast captain of "Treasure of the August Moon"
is even better, and more important now.
Not only does he get entangled in the water, ribbon and red tape, but also in the love life of a lovely woman and an officer nurse for whom he plays Cupid against all regulations. His own unrequited passion of the native beauty Mallory provides additional romance in the infinitely romantic setting of the island.

Highlights to watch for: the best youngverring of the beautiful island magazine for respondent who studies a cruise, how the man of which are down her shiny black hair ponies, and the inept building of a club house by the officers whose only work of battle are acquired here.

We hereby salute producer Lawrence Weingarten, director Charles Walters, sonarrists Dorothy Kingsley and George Wells.
They have made this Avon Production a major victory.

So hang your ears on the nearest factory limb and get as close as you can to M.G.M.'s
"Don't Go Near The Water."

If recurring pattern of bloody revolt in French colonies from Indochina to North Africa has sometimes tested that France, like her Bourbons, has "learned nothing and gotten nothing," last week, as evidence to the contrary, France acted to stall future Algerias, by launching new deal in "Black Africa"—the well-known French domain that stretches all the way from below the equator to the Sahara. 1978

After a year away from the more civilized planets of the Universe, I returned to the Metropolitan center of the earth and picked up some of the newspapers of the past year. Here on the front page of the A.H.S. NEWS of 1978 were these startling headlines:

UNITED PLANETS ORGANIZATION ELECTS FIRST PRESIDENT
HONORABLE BUZZ MILLER OF PLANET EARTH NAMED

Another story stated that the discoveries of the great scientist, DOUGLAS ACKERMAN, had been important in the field of missiles. Missile expert, HARRY SHAPIRO, who is confined to the hospital after an explosion in one of his laboratories, has offered his great collection of missiles to the United Planets Organization for further study. A new officer of the organization is PATSY PECHE. Her superior knowledge of French planetary dialect assures her a position on the Council.

Speaker of the House, PETER SEHLINGER, spoke of objections to the Planetary Emigrants Bill. The bill is vigorously opposed by this planetary system's No. 1 debater, the HONORABLE DOUGLAS H. McCALL. Consequently, the Bill seems doomed to failure.

Another article on the front page gave the announcement of the United States "Brain Trusters," appointed by the President of the United States, DAVID O'BRIAN. These were: WALTER TAYLOR, HELEN HODGES, DEE GATTERDAM, JERRY HIRSCH, STEVE DAVIS, GAYLE GENTRY, MARTIN ROTHMAN, and LOUIS WESTERFIELD.

In November of 1978 the NEW YORK TIMES announced the sweeping victories of the new JAMES THOMAS Political Party.

Prominent in the scientific news were: JOE SPEIDEN, STEVE KIMBALL, JANET SCHMIDT, and DEANNA SCHMIDT for Medical achievements; HARLOW EDWARDS for great biological discoveries; and MARY MARTHA WIGGINS for her mathematical research.

Fashions of 1978 were modeled by the ten best-dressed women in the Universe as follows: JOYCE ANDERSON, BARBARA SOFAN and GRETCHEN BARFIELD, from Planet Pluto; DONA COYTE and HOPE ESPIE from Planet Mars; BARBARA MAYDWELL, MILDRED ZEHNDER, NANCY JONES, and SHARON WEITZ, from Planet Saturn; and PAT JONES from Planet Earth, of whom we are all very proud and pleased because of her many achievements and qualities which won her the title of "Miss Universe."

Despite space taxis and satellites, the atomic powered automobile business has flourished greatly during this past year. Bringing out the most progressive models, the RONNIE TICHENOR Industries have taken the lead. The sales department, headed by the super personality salesman, KARL HOHMANN, has been greatly responsible for this Industry's success.

The SHEILA WAGNER Planetary Business School this year has sent secretaries to every planet in the Universe. MISS SUSAN RAASCH, a former instructor there, has recently been named to the White House Press Corps in Washington, D.C. BRUCE WRIGHT Editor-in-Chief of the most popular interplanetary magazine, THE SPACIAL LOOK, has featured MISS WAGNER on its cover.

The sports events of 1978 rivaled the victories of old Atherton High School of twenty years ago. With RONNIE BIDDLE coaching the all-star interplanetary team and CHARLES LUCAS as manager, it looks as though our Universe will go to the Crater Bowl on Thanksgiving Day. BUTCH FARLEE has succeeded again in being the best basketball star of the year.

Among the stars (entertainment stars, that is) TONI BOOKER, Metropolitan Opera Singer, has received the plaudits of the music world's most noted critics.

The "I Love Sandra" program, starring SANDRA McMORRIS, captured the cosmic receiving set top-rating, while DORIS NICHEOLS led the line of beauties in the Follies of 1978.

KITTY WINKLER, after years of research, has just finished a work on names. She is considered a great authority on people named "Bruce."

ELIZA STOUT and PAT McGUFFEY are two originators of popular syndicated cartoon strips—comic, of course.

In my own home town of Louisville, Kentucky, the REVEREND BOB STAUFFER will be host minister next month to DR. DUKE K. McCALL, JR., who, like the Billy Graham of twenty years ago, has preached to many listening millions from our own earth to the most far-flung planets.

The President's latest appointment of the new Interplanetary Ambassador, SYD WRIGHT, assures the United States a joyous and happy relationship with all the universes of outer-space.

With such leaders in the Universe today, the progress of humanity in the future is infinite.

ONWARD

*Onward, and always in your name,
Onward, to bring you pride and fame
Seeking the goal we know is true,
Atherton, with our faith in you.*

*Onward, and let our voices raise,
Over the years, our song of praise.
This be the name we travel by Atherton High! Atherton High!*
